

Sample LOR for Master's Program

Letter Of Recommendation

It is a proud moment for me to endorse my student Ms. Tanvi Patel for (mention program name) offered by your university. She is acquainted with me through our academic interactions at ABC University, where I have conducted her theory classes for the subjects of Digital Signal Processing, Probability theory and random processes, Digital Image Processing, DSP with MATLAB and Fiber Optic Communication and instructed her in the practical sessions for Electronic Devices and circuits, Digital IC's HDL, Linear IC's and pulse circuits and Digital Communication. As her professor, I found Tanvi to be an assiduous student, who is multi-tasking and works skillfully towards maintaining a fine balance between her varied commitments.

She is a dedicated student with an indomitable determination to do well in academics. Her admission into the undergraduate program was through merit based system and she was among the top sixty candidates selected by the university. Going by the aforementioned fact, consistent excellent grades that she has scored is an inevitable feat expected from someone of her caliber and further establishes her reputation as an academically strong student. She not only possesses sound fundamental knowledge but also is inquisitive about exploring latest technical advents and their practical application, especially simulation and coding. Additionally, her lab work was comprehensive as she applied theoretical concepts with ease, showed thorough knowledge around practical implementation of learnt principles and when faced with complications in experiments navigated through them creatively.

Tanvi's remarkable performances in various extra-curricular activities is an indication of her understanding on vital role these activities has in holistic development of one's personality and consequently regularly participates in social causes (beach cleanup drives, Swatch Bharat Campaign) and sporting activities. She has served as the president of sports club, led her team in winning an inter-university throwball competition and organized various events as well. I was also her supervisor for a technical festival that she organized independently and was responsible for managing all the sub-events and related activities such as identifying sponsors, creating banners and promoting the festival on social media platforms. Handling diverse tasks during this event, she displayed her adeptness at organizational skills, communicated effectively with her team members and seemed to enjoy working within team in a fast paced environment. While she was impressive with her professional level planning and accurate execution of tasks as planned, I particularly appreciated the tenacity she exhibited in terms of meeting the expectations associated with the event and diligent efforts with which she completed all her assigned tasks timely.

I think this course will afford Tanvi great opportunity to develop deeper knowledge on advance technologies, which she will most certainly capture and successfully learn all the skills taught within the structure of this course. I therefore recommend her to your esteemed institution.

Dr. Meenal Singh
Assistant Professor
ABC University